

IRHA's New Webpages

Updating or adding your contact information

IRHA has developed new webpages allowing you to update your contact information, view if your membership is current, register for an event, check what events you are registered for, pay open orders, allow IRHA members to search the organizational directory, and more!

Also, a designated individual from your organization is listed as the primary contact. The primary contact has the ability to update contact information for individuals within your organization, complete group registrations for individuals within your organization and purchase an organizational membership. To check who the primary contact of your organization is, login to your profile and click on your organization's information under the "my information" tab.

To access the new webpages and login go to:

- IRHA website www.indianaruralhealth.org
- Choose the link "Engage with IRHA"
- Once on the webpage, choose "login" to the left

To Login:

If you are a current or past IRHA member your information is in the system. When logging in be sure you do not type a blank space at the end of your email, the system will regard the email as invalid.

If you, or your organization, are new to IRHA you will need to complete a "new visitor registration" at login. After choosing "login" on the left, choose the "new visitor registration" link.

Complete the information on the form. Please retain your password for future access. After entering your personal information you can choose to enter information for your organization if your organization is new to IRHA. If your organization, or individuals from your organization, have participated in past IRHA events your organization is already in our system; please do not create an organization profile, continue without providing the information. The IRHA staff will link you to the existing organization profile.
